

Speakers' Special - For persons presenting classes, workshops, etc.

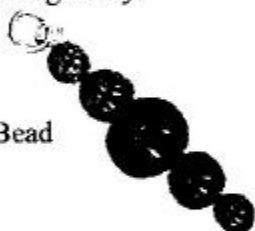

Carnelian
Tiger Eye
Lapis Lazuli
Crystal Catalyst
Turquoise
Yellow Jade
Lapis Lazuli

Personal Protective Pendant

For persons who feel they need additional protection from negativity.

Red Jasper
Tiger Eye
Blue Catalyst Bead
Jet
Green Jade

Many people asked for something inexpensive to energize their etheric bodies, so I began to make up small pendants in a variety of happy combinations, each powered by a Catalyst Bead. Prospective buyers could dowse these until they found one which seemed suitable for their purposes. It quickly became obvious that dowsers with cardiopulmonary insufficiencies always chose a pendant that we came to call "Breathe Easy." One lady was particularly delighted that it had a jasper base bead, which she said gave the etheric body what it needed to enhance liver function in the physical body. She had me make up three for friends. Soon thereafter, another lady ordered five for Christmas presents for her elderly relatives. I hung one on my mother, and she wouldn't be without it. This is, without a doubt, the favorite of customers who have congestive heart failure, asthma, emphysema, or chronic bronchitis.

Next came the Physical Chakra Balancer, intended to enhance the etheric bodies of people who were feeling puny. They are intended to be used with toning and color visualization to keep the chakras in proper working order. Begin with the bottom stone, tone with do, middle C. Then with the next stone, tone with re, D, and so forth, continuing up the pendant and up the scale as you focus on the color of each stone.

The Emotional Chakra Balancer is a combination of stones especially dowsed out to enhance the etheric body of those who are nervous wrecks or are suffering from a broken heart. It is used with toning in the same way as the Physical Chakra Balancer.

The American Society of Dowsters • P.O. Box 24, Danville, Vermont 05828 • (802) 684-3417

We have nothing to offer those who want to get rich quick, but for the more practical and well-balanced souls who still need their daily bread, we have the Prosperity Pendant. It works to create a cheerful, optimistic outlook which enables one to take advantage of opportunities that might otherwise be missed. It is a pendant for those who are content to be healthy, wealthy and wise.

Newest of all is the Serenity Pendant. Requests for this type began about the time the Berlin Wall was torn down and the Soviet Union fell apart. The economy of the United States also suffered significant reverses. People who had been taught all their lives that if they were honest and hard-working, they would be secure, found themselves out of work. Suddenly, they realized that not only did they not know the rules anymore — they didn't even know the name of the game. This led to a world-wide case of free-floating anxiety. This is an especially good pendant for dowsers since accurate dowsing requires a state of calm. I had absolutely no intention of making a fifth pendant; but after three nights of not being able to sleep, I got up and dowsed out the Serenity Pendant, ordered the required stones in the proper sizes, and began putting them together.

(Charmion McKusick has been dowsing since she was four years old. She prefers deviceless or hand dowsing except when she works with gemstones, when she uses a pendulum. She is internationally recognized for her tiles of Southwestern birds and animals and for her work as a research archaeologist. Charmion served as the National Park Services only archeo-ornithologist for five years and operates the Southwest Bird Lab, where she identifies bird and mammal bones from archeological sites. She uses hand-dowsing regularly to determine where to look for comparison bones for positive identification. Charmion has been a frequent speaker at many of ASD conferences and has written many booklets on the subject of dowsing. Her latest, "How to Dowse and Balance the Chakras," evolved through her work with her husband Bob, using gemstones for balancing the etheric body.)

CIRCLES

The eye is the first circle; the horizon which it forms is the second; and throughout nature this primary figure is repeated without end. It is the highest emblem in the cipher of the world.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882)

The American Society of Dowsters • P.O. Box 24, Danville, Vermont 05828 • (802) 684-3417