

CLEAN YOUR ENERGY ENVIRONMENT
Clear where you work and sleep.

The human body is about 70% water containing salt. It conducts electricity, and is an electrical system. The body's functions and responses are controlled by weak electromagnetic pulses from the brain. These regulate the body's well-being and its ability to heal itself. The brain's responses are affected by electromagnetic radiations in the environment which surrounds it. These radiations are unique in our electronic age.

Crystal Catalyst® products alter the nature of most harmful energies before they strike the body, thus removing environmental stress, and allowing the body to resume normal functions. These products have been shown in tests to increase whole-brainwave activity.

Catalyst Beads, Tabs, and other Resonators have a unique composition and structure which allows them to absorb and then rebroadcast harmful electromagnetic radiations in a cleaner form. They are dielectric resonators made from space age ceramics. Their molecular structure resonates to alter the frequencies of most harmful environmental radiations, reducing the damaging effects.

These products are neither electrical nor magnetic, but work with a different energy which does not harm electrical equipment or discs. Beads, Tabs, and other Resonators are designed to reduce annoying radiation levels from computer monitors, CPU units, TV screens, fluorescent lights, telephone receivers, automobile electronics, powerline transformers, and most electronic devices.

Their effectiveness can be measure chemically, photographically, and with brainwave and muscle testing. Commuters who wear a bead report increased alertness, and reduced jet lag.
